4. Items and Quantities Awarded: Blanket Purchase Agreement for CIO Modernization and Enterprise Transformation. BPA period of performance is five years.

A total of 5 task orders are awarded from the 4 performance work statements included in the RFQ. The following is a summary of the task order awards:

GSA-IT O&M Halley's Task Order

Per the RFQ, this task order is awarded to the BPA awardee who offered the best value of non-price technical factor 2 (as it relates to the respective subfactor of the task order PWS) and factor 5 price, with factor 2 considered more important than price. Task order award is made to Sevatec, Inc. with a total evaluated price of $115,998,998.80.

GSA-IT O&M Hale-Bopp Task Order

Per the RFQ, this task order is awarded to the BPA awardee who offered the best value of non-price technical factor 2 (as it relates to the respective subfactor of the task order PWS) and factor 5 price, with factor 2 considered more important than price. Task order award is made to Booz Allen Hamilton, Inc. with a total evaluated price of $76,696,428.12.

GSA-IT O&M FAS Cloud Services Task Order

Per the RFQ, this task order is awarded to the BPA awardee who offered the best value of non-price technical factor 2 (as it relates to the respective subfactor of the task order PWS) and factor 5 price, with factor 2 considered more important than price. Task order award is made to Booz Allen Hamilton, Inc. with a total evaluated price of $32,572,419.40.

IAE beta.SAM.gov Development and O&M Task Order

Per the RFQ, this task order is awarded to the BPA awardee(s) who offered the best value of non-price technical factor 2 (as it relates to the respective subfactor of the task order PWS) and factor 5 price, with factor 2 considered more important than price. The Government stated it reserved the right to make multiple awards for this task order, with the number of awards being at the Government's discretion.

Two task order awards are made for the IAE beta.SAM.gov Development and O&M Task Order.

Award #1 is made to Vencore, Inc. (dba Perspecta) with a total evaluated price of $16,438,565.78.

Award #2 is made to Incentive Technology Group/Accenture Federal Services CTA with a total evaluated price of $17,411,154.35.

5. Total projected life cycle cost: N/A – BPA award does not obligate funding
6. The COMET BPA awards were based on best value, with a trade-off of Factors 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5 among vendors participating in Step 3. The Government considered all of the five factors. The non-price factors (when combined) were more important than the price factor.

The COMET awardees (Part 3 above) were selected for award because they offered the best combination of non-price level of confidence scores and price. The unsuccessful offerors each have a level of confidence scores below the twelve BPA awardees. The government considers the performance risk of these offerors to outweigh any potential increase in task order price.

4. Items and Quantities Awarded: Blanket Purchase Agreement for CIO Modernization and Enterprise Transformation. BPA period of performance is five years.

A total of 5 task orders are awarded from the 4 performance work statements included in the RFQ. The following is a summary of the task order awards:

GSA-IT O&M Halley's Task Order

Per the RFQ, this task order is awarded to the BPA awardee who offered the best value of non-price technical factor 2 (as it relates to the respective subfactor of the task order PWS) and factor 5 price, with factor 2 considered more important than price. Task order award is made to Sevatec, Inc. with a total evaluated price of $115,998,998.80.

GSA-IT O&M Hale-Bopp Task Order

Per the RFQ, this task order is awarded to the BPA awardee who offered the best value of non-price technical factor 2 (as it relates to the respective subfactor of the task order PWS) and factor 5 price, with factor 2 considered more important than price. Task order award is made to Booz Allen Hamilton, Inc. with a total evaluated price of $76,696,428.12.

GSA-IT O&M FAS Cloud Services Task Order

Per the RFQ, this task order is awarded to the BPA awardee who offered the best value of non-price technical factor 2 (as it relates to the respective subfactor of the task order PWS) and factor 5 price, with factor 2 considered more important than price. Task order award is made to Booz Allen Hamilton, Inc. with a total evaluated price of $32,572,419.40.

IAE beta.SAM.gov Development and O&M Task Order

Per the RFQ, this task order is awarded to the BPA awardee(s) who offered the best value of non-price technical factor 2 (as it relates to the respective subfactor of the task order PWS) and factor 5 price, with factor 2 considered more important than price. The Government stated it reserved the right to make multiple awards for this task order, with the number of awards being at the Government's discretion.

Two task order awards are made for the IAE beta.SAM.gov Development and O&M Task Order.

Award #1 is made to Vencore, Inc. (dba Perspecta) with a total evaluated price of $16,438,565.78.

Award #2 is made to Incentive Technology Group/Accenture Federal Services CTA with a total evaluated price of $17,411,154.35.

5. Total projected life cycle cost: N/A – BPA award does not obligate funding
6. The COMET BPA awards were based on best value, with a trade-off of Factors 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5 among vendors participating in Step 3. The Government considered all of the five factors. The non-price factors (when combined) were more important than the price factor.

The COMET awardees (Part 3 above) were selected for award because they offered the best combination of non-price level of confidence scores and price. The unsuccessful offerors each have a level of confidence scores below the twelve BPA awardees. The government considers the performance risk of these offerors to outweigh any potential increase in task order price.

price. Task order award is made to Booz Allen Hamilton, Inc. with a total evaluated price of $32,572,419.40.

IAE beta.SAM.gov Development and O&M Task Order

Per the RFQ, this task order is awarded to the BPA awardee(s) who offered the best value of non-price technical factor 2 (as it relates to the respective subfactor of the task order PWS) and factor 5 price, with factor 2 considered more important than price. The Government stated it reserved the right to make multiple awards for this task order, with the number of awards being at the Government's discretion.

Two task order awards are made for the IAE beta.SAM.gov Development and O&M Task Order.

Award #1 is made to Vencore, Inc. (dba Perspecta) with a total evaluated price of $16,438,565.78.

Award #2 is made to Incentive Technology Group/Accenture Federal Services CTA with a total evaluated price of $17,411,154.35.

5. Total projected life cycle cost: N/A – BPA award does not obligate funding
6. The COMET BPA awards were based on best value, with a trade-off of Factors 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5 among vendors participating in Step 3. The Government considered all of the five factors. The non-price factors (when combined) were more important than the price factor.

The COMET awardees (Part 3 above) were selected for award because they offered the best combination of non-price level of confidence scores and price. The unsuccessful offerors each have a level of confidence scores below the twelve BPA awardees. The government considers the performance risk of these offerors to outweigh any potential increase in task order price.
